

Anthro Club

Spring 2009

This semester, each month will be loosely themed on one of the four subfields of anthropology. Here's a tentative agenda for what's ahead:

January (Archaeology)

Happy Hour:

Our first of the year was a huge success! Thanks to everyone who came out—we hope to see everyone and more in the future!

Event:

Thursday, January 22nd at 7:30 in the Anthro Seminar Room (Sparks 344). An archaeology-themed mini-film fest and potluck dinner! (No Indiana Jones here, however.) Feel free to look up some ancient recipes, or find other creative ways to make your food arch-themed!

 While not officially an Anthro Club event, the High Museum offers free admission to Fulton Co. residents on the first Saturday of each month. Seize the opportunity to see the First Emperor exhibit for free!

February (Biological)

Happy Hour:

Thursday, February 5th at 7:30 at Thinking Man Tavern in Decatur.

Meeting:

Thursday, February 12th at 12:30 in the Anthro Kitchen (Sparks 345). Our very own Dr. Turner will be our guest of honor to discuss her work in Peru.

Event:

Last week of February, Date and time TBD. Volunteering at Flat Rock Cemetery. We'll be visiting the nearby African American cemetery to aid in preservation and education on its archaeological and historical significance.

March (Linguistics)

Happy Hour:

Thursday, March 5th at 7:30 at Dakota Blue in Grant Park.

Meeting:

Thursday, March 12th at 12:30 in the Anthro Kitchen (Sparks 345). Dr. Stephanie Lindemann, a sociolinguist from Applied Linguistics at GSU, will join us to share her research on native-non-native interactions.

Event:

Sunday, March 15th. Refugee Family Services will be hosting Taste the World, a food and "culture" festival to benefit refugees in Atlanta. By volunteering, we'll not only get in for FREE, but will also be serving and connecting with our community! Stay tuned for details.

April (Cultural)

Happy Hour:

Thursday, April 2nd at 7:30, TBD. Your suggestions welcome, for a convenient location that will easily accommodate our rambunctious crowd! (Contact Ivey at itapp1@student.gsu.edu)

Meeting:

Thursday, April 9th at 12:30 in the Anthro Kitchen (Sparks 345). We hope to have one of our wonderful cultural anthropologists speak about their research! TBD

Event:

TBD. But we'll make it good!!

Also, the 74th Annual Meeting for the Society for American Archaeology will take place in Atlanta April 22-26. If you are interested in volunteering (great for your CV!) see www.saa.org.

At last, the mystery of the Mayan calendar revealed.

Spring Break Alternative

March 3-9

For a student, it doesn't take a struggling economy to make scrounging up enough cash for a weeklong getaway a hefty challenge. But never fear: Anthro Club's got your back! Stay tuned for events to keep you entertained locally, and on a budget. We'll make the most of our break with exciting and educational outings around Atlanta, service opportunities, and just plain fun.

FACEBOOK!

Find the Anthro Club group on Facebook! It's a great way to stay updated on events and meetings, share pictures, contact officers and other members, throw around ideas, questions or comments, and even conduct an ethnographic study!

If you have any questions, comments, or vulgar jokes, please contact your President! dcook13@student.gsu.edu.
